That portion of the Union Pacific line between Ogden, Utah and Pocatello, previously narrow gauge, has been changed to standard gauge. The line between the two points shortened sixteen miles.

GEORGE MCKAY, who left his wife and two children fifteen years ago in Southern Indiana, returned and found his wife living at Minneapolis and happily married. A day or two ago the wife of two men died.

The manager of the Hotel Metropole in London denies the story that Colonel Pepper brought a night-clerk to his knees and kissing an apology for having been in that attitude for insulting remarks about Americans.

The Grand Duke Nicholas, uncle of the Czar, is in a critical condition. The cancerous affection for which he has been suffering since he was attacked by the brain and his physicians pronounce the case very serious.

Dr. SCHWEINBERG, the famous anti-fat physician of Bismarck, has gone on an extended tour of Europe with the object of increasing his knowledge of the growth as thin as a rail, and his nervous system is thoroughly prostrated.

The Republican convention of the Seventh Ohio district, nominated General J. M. Ashley, of Toledo, for Congress. He was an important figure in the National House during the war but has been out of political life for many years.

The Irule Indians of South Dakota are moving to the agency buildings, in order to receive their winter rations without having to travel any great distance. The Indians believe the coming winter will be long and severe, and are taking every precaution to avoid suffering.

MR. GLADSTONE has been giving his opinion of the new tariff act. He says: "The tariff act is, as you will suppose, in my eyes a deplorable error, attended with severe and cruel consequences to the people. I shall certainly do so to find an opportunity of offering remarks upon it in Midlothian."

The marriage of Jeanne, daughter of Alexander Dumas, a young Countess, to a French nobleman, took place recently. Among the guests at the wedding, which was marked by simplicity, were MM. Molsheim, Halley, Gordon and Charles, the latter being a member of the church ceremony was Mme. Albani's singing of Gounod's "Ave Maria."

SUNDAY observance is steadily gaining ground in Paris. In the West end the great majority of the salons are closed, and the majority of the people are staying at home. The French are gradually coming to realize the value of the day.

A DISPATCH from Chicago says that Western freight affairs are in bad shape, particularly now that the division of traffic between the two lines has been through, owing to the inability of the roads and the arbitration committee to agree upon a plan of rates to be in effect on the 1st of October. Rate-cutting is being freely indulged in on all sides and there is no telling where it will stop.

LYMAN E. KNAPP, Governor of Alaska, in his annual report says that the law prohibiting the sale of liquor to Indians is a dead letter, except as to the Indians. The liquor of the finest quality are sold openly and in violation of the law, even to those whose families are suffering for the necessities of life. The reason assigned for the inefficiency of the law, the Governor says, is that prosecutions would be of no account. Grand juries refuse to indict and police refuse to convict.

Through the stupidity of an engraving clerk, unable to write the English language grammatically or spell correctly, the law recently passed by the Legislature of New York is full of absurd blunders and contradictions. They are a disgrace to the first State of the Union and will do much to bring discredit upon the State.

A SCULPTOR named Lederer, employed in the kitchen at the residence of Archduke Sigismund, in Blyria, Austria, has been arrested on the charge of putting arsenic in the food prepared for the Archduke and his suite partook of the food and all were taken sick a short time afterward. The doctor was hastily summoned and the doctor was in time to neutralize the effects of the poison. Lederer's sole object in placing the poison in the food was to effect the dismissal of the Archduke's chef, who had injured his family.
